Who Is That Masked Woman?

No ordinary masks, these are facials in a jar. In just a few minutes, they'll brighten you up like an hour's worth of spa time.

1. Avon Planet Spa White Tea Energizing Face Mask ($8.50) tightens lightly as it dries to a thin film. Peel it off to reveal your softest-ever skin.
2. Better than sliced cucumbers on tired eyes: Origins No Puffy Cooling Mask for Puffy Eyes ($20) with aloe vera and chamomile essential oil.
3. Need a quick (eye) lift? Try Talika Eye Decompress ($25 for nine). Drop the tiny tablet into the liquid and—voilà!—unfold a cool, soft cloth mask scented with rose extract.
4. The perfect blend of oil absorbers and moisturizers in Astara Blue Flame Purification Mask ($37) helps reduce blemishes and shine without leaving skin dull or dry. It smells great, too.

5. The fresh lavender scent, the slick gel texture, and the fruit extracts for exfoliating in Ole Henriksen Blue/Blackberry Enzyme Mask ($32) give new meaning to "saving face."
6. Try Ling Moisturizing Facial Masque ($36) with aloe—in the same vibrant blue as the Caribbean—for a healthy, back-from-an-island-holiday glow.
